

DR J EDWARD KIDDER ON

DIGGING PreHISTORY In WEST TOKYO

10:30 am
September 29, 2004
282 J. W. Reitz Union

&

THE ENIGMA OF JAPANESE
ImPERIAL TomBS

6:30 pm
September 30, 2004
Samuel P. Harn Museum of Art

Join Dr. Kidder as he explores the rich prehistoric sites of the western part of greater Tokyo which date back as far as 30,000 years.

Enter the world of the enormous keyhole-shaped mounds filled with regalia that symbolize the legitimacy of the Japanese imperial family—the mirror, sword and jewels.

Dr. J. Edward Kidder is an archaeologist and art historian of prehistoric Japan. From 1972 to 1993, Kidder was director of fifteen archaeological excavations for the Tokyo metropolitan government.

Sponsored by the UF
Asian Studies Program,
Department of African and
Asian Languages and Literature, Department of Anthropology, School of Art and Art History and the Samuel P. Harn
Museum of Art.

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA